Twenty Years in Use. . . .

AN OLD FRIEND. —

In nearly every part of the world St. Jacobs Oil is known and used as a curative for pain almost without equal. How this benefactor looks when it comes on its mission of comfort is shown below in the fac-similes of the bottle, wrapped and unwrapped. It is a familiar, kind picture to thousands who have been benefited and cured, and it is given in part as a welcome to its friends, and in part that all may know how the genuine article looks and exactly how it is put up.
